Re: Nineteenth Century Vitus Statistics of Sampson County, and Duplin County {1796-1870} Vol 1 By Bradley Lee West.

KENNEDY: is an Irish Name literally meaning "helmeted head" and was originally written Cinneide and had the meaning of "ugly head". The name Kennedy is one of the most common names in Ireland. May of the Irish Kennedys fled to Spain and France during the English Oppression. In Virginia Patrick Kenede or (Kennycyde) was granted 600 acres of land Nansemond County in 1637. He sold this land the same year. There was a Gawin Kenneday in Westmore County, Virginia in 1668.

There are many variation of spelling for the name Kennedy. Some of these are Canady, Canaday, Cannady, Kennady, Kenady, Kenneday.

In the issue of the Washington Journal dated May 14, 1862, "Died in Duplin County, on the 14th inst, John Kennedy, aged 85 years and 3 months.

Notes for ISSAC (IKE) HOUSTON:

BLINDNESS DOES NOT HANDICAP MAN'S TALENTS

BEULAVILLE: Seventy-year old Ike Houston was blinded by disease in the second grad, but that handicap has not kept the mild-manned, soft spoken man with a sense of humor from using his full will power determination.

Houston is well known throughout the area for his artistry.

He owns and operates a small "country store" just outside of Beulaville where he also does his woodworking. "I am not making these things for the money," Houston said "It is my hobby."

"There's one thing about it, you can't be in a hurry--you just have to take your time to do a good job, and you must have a love for it," the woodcarver said.

Houston operates his own lathe and other machines he uses in making his wood items.

Most of the things he has recently made were sold between Thanksgiving and Christmas. "I'm just a little behind now, he said, "but I'll catch up again."

He has been making use of his artistic talent for the past six to eight years.

He said that he would have started many years ago, but he didn't have the money to buy the machinery he needed.

"I began whittling on wood when I was just a little boy." Houston recalled, "and I Remember that my first pocket knife had a broken blade."

JOHN kENNEDY

"you name it and I have made it," Houston said, I;Ave made footstools, knobs for the end of curtain rods, wooden chairs, wooden chain, toothpicks holders, and on down the line.

"As you know I can't see and I can't read anything, I can't use a drawing or anything to work from--so, I just have to let people tell me in details what they want, and how they want it done, then I can do it." Houston said.

Houston said he gave his typing teacher at the State School for the Blind in Raleigh,now the Gov. Morehead School for the Blind, the first wooden chain that he ever made--"And the Next day, she bought me my first "real" knife that cast $2.50--and that was during "Hoover times." It has long since been worn out.

He learned his ABC's on his 13th birthday while at the school for the blind--in Braille.

Houston remained at the school for eight years and left it in 1933.

While he was a resident at the institution, he repeatedly asked the superintendent to develop a wood working class for those who wished to take part in learning a skill or trade. He also told the superintendent he wanted to learn how to operate a lathe.

The superintendent told Houston that he would never be able to learn how to operate a lathe. "He told me he wanted to hear no more about," Houston said.

When Houston left the institution in 1933, he returned to his native home in Duplin County where he worked on the family farm in tobacco, cut wood, cut down trees and scrubbed ditches.

However, in 1936 the State Commission for the Blind and the Lions Clubs of North Carolina contacted Houston and asked him if he would like going to Durham to work in a mattress factory where other blind persons were employed.

After a year as a mattress worker, Houston reluctantly agreed to take over operating soft drink stand at the plant.

In December 1943, Houston returned to Duplin County and January 1944, he opened his first little"country store" in the abandoned Brandy School House--the same one-room school where Houston spent his first two years in public education.

He remained in the abandoned old school house for three years and had to leave it behind because it finally decayed around him.

Houston has been at his present location in an old gas station, outside the Duplin County town of Beulaville, since 1947.

Through the years, he has always operated his small store alone and will continue to do so. "My friends and neighbors are good to me," Houston said, "they help me make the correct change and find the items they want on the shelves--they are always coming in to check on me also, and will sit to talk and remember old times." His store has been broken into 19 times since it has been in operation, two of those times, his store was completely "cleaned out" of every item, he says.

One of the items Houston made that he is proud of is a "butter bean Sheller" that perfectly shells one-half bushel in four to five minutes.

Not only did he make the Sheller, but also he became angry with an electrician who told him he would never be able to install the electric motor to operate it because of his blindness. Houston's determination rose to the occasion and he connected all the electric wires and installed the motor complete with a reverse electric switch.

It might seems that a person who has been deprived of sight for more than 50 years would think life has given them a bad deal. But Houston will smile and tell you, "It's the best world that I have ever lived in, and I'm not in any hurry to leave it."

Notes for GEORGE THOMAS CANADY:

Sometime about this time some of the family change their name from Kennedy to Canady. I have been told the story I do not have any proof that one of the boys went of to war and could not read and write the Sergant asked him his name and he spell it Canady instead of Kennedy. So he always keep it as Canady.
