This book is about my great, great, great, great grandfather, David Quinn, and his descendants. He settled in Duplin County, North Carolina, just before the Revolutionary War, and returned here to live after his enlistment in the Continental Army was completed. Ever since that time, one or more members of his family have lived and farmed here. Today, some of the original property he settled on over two hundred years ago is still owned by David's descendants.

During the several years of my genealogical research of the Quinn side of my ancestry, I have been able to identify over 1500 of David's descendants; I am sure there are at least that many more that I have not been able to find. In this book I am attempting to pass on what information I have been able to find out about the ones I know.

In order to keep track of everyone, I have used a numbering method that other writers of genealogy have employed. Each of David Quinn's descendants has been assigned a number which indicates their ancestral lineage back to David.

The first generation are David's seven children. They have been assigned numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7.

The second generation are David's grandchildren. Each of them has been assigned a number which indicates which of David's children was their parent. For example, David's fifth child was James W. Quinn and his number is 5. James also had seven children and they are numbered 5.1, 5.2, 5.3, 5.4, 5.5, 5.6, and 5.7.

The third generation are David's great grandchildren. Each of them has been assigned a number which indicates which of David's grandchildren was their parent. For example, David's son James' first child was W. David Quinn and his number is 5.1. W. David had nine children and they are numbered 5.1.1, 5.1.2, 5.1.3, 5.1.4, 5.1.5, 5.1.6, 5.1.7, 5.1.8, and 5.1.9.

The succeeding generations' children are assigned numbers in a similar fashion. For example, I am Ann Brooks Kendall and I'm a member of the sixth generation. I was the last of my mother's six children and my number is 5.1.8.1.3.6. My Quinn ancestral lineage is as follows:

	David Quinn	(my 4th great grandfather)
5	James W. Quinn	(my 3rd great grandfather)
5.1	W. David Quinn	(my 2nd great grandfather)
5.1.8	Lewis Henry Quinn	(my 1st great grandfather)
5.1.8.1	Lacy Bertice Quinn	(my grandfather)
5.1.8.1.3	Pauline Quinn Brooks	(my mother)
5.1.8.1.3.6	Ann Brooks Kendall	(myself)

The chapter entitled QUINN DESCENDANTS uses this numbering method to relate each of the descendants to the other. It starts with David Quinn and proceeds forward through nine generations.

THE PATRIARCH

DAVID QUINN (1753-1837)

David Quinn was born in Carteret County c. 1753. He was my great, great, great, great, grandfather.

During the Revolutionary War David was drafted into the militia in Duplin County, North Carolina, and served under General Lillington for three months until discharged in New Hanover County. He subsequently substituted for Lewis Barfield in the North Carolina Continental Army on the 17th of May, 1781.

Four months later, on September 8, 1781, at Eutaw Springs in South Carolina, David, a 28 year old private, was wounded in the hip as he and his fellow soldiers attacked the British force encamped there. He had arrived the day before, along with 100 Continentals under Major Reading Blount, to join General Greene in Greene's campaign to drive the British back to Charleston.

The battle at Eutaw Springs was the costliest fought by the North Carolina Continental Army, but it effectively ended the American Revolutionary War in the South.

David was sent to the hospital at Camden, South Carolina, to recover from his wound. He rejoined General Greene and eventually separated from service in Wilmington, North Carolina, on the 1st of June, 1782, having served his term of 12 months.

After his service in the Revolutionary War, David returned to Duplin County near what is now the town of Magnolia. There he married Esther Williams, daughter of John Williams and Priscilla Barnes of Duplin County. David and Esther were married March 17, 1786, when Esther was 22 years of age and David was 33.

In the year following their marriage, Esther presented David with the first of their eventual eight children. She was Nancy Ann. Soon to follow were Sara, Catherine "Catey" "kitty", Mary "Polly", James W., Frances "Fanny", Elizabeth "Betsy", and Eleanor "Elender" "Nellie".

During his lifetime, David accumulated some 800 acres of property in Duplin County. Included in these acres were 150 bought from Auston Beesley in 1795 for the sum of "... one hundred fifty pounds good and lawful money of said State (North Carolina)...". Also included were 350 acres on the Cabbins Branch and the south side of Maxwell Swamp granted to David Quinn by the state of North Carolina on August 29, 1799 under Land Grant No. 1623. Additionally included were 124 acres bought from John Mathews (Mathis) in 1814 for $77.40.

In addition to acquiring land David also acquired slaves to work the land which was the custom of the day. One of these slaves was a young 15 year old boy named Nathan bought for "... three hundred and fifty spanish mill dollars ..." from his brother-in-law, Esther's brother, Jesse Williams in 1803. Jesse Williams had received Nathan as part of his late father's estate.

David and Esther farmed their land and raised their children peacefully in Duplin County as they grew old together and prospered.

As David approached the end of his life, he made arrangements for the welfare of his family after his death. On September 22, 1819, when his only son, James, was 22 years old, David gave to him 322 acres of his, by now, large plantation. The land was given to his son in consideration "... of the tender love and affection which the said David Quinn hath and doth bear towards his son, James Quinn ...". The one qualifier attached to the gift was that the land was not to be transferred until David's death. David was 66 years old when he gave the property to James.

Later, the remainder of David's lands, including the manor plantation, were divided by deed to the rest of his children; Nancy, Catherine, Polly, Fanny, Elizabeth and Nellie. Sara was not mentioned in the deed and is assumed to have died before David divided the property. This deed also imposed a requirement that the ownership of the land would not pass to his daughters until after his and his wife's deaths.

Shortly after the United States Congress passed the act of 1832 authorizing pensions to those citizens who had fought in the Revolutionary War, David appeared before Stephen Graham, William K. Monk and Gibson Sloan at the Duplin Court of Pleas and Quarter Session to apply for these benefits as a soldier of both the militia and Continental Army. The Clerk of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Session, James Pearsall, certified the application on November 26, 1832. After several correspondences David was awarded a pension of $50 per year plus payment in arrears of $125 on February 5, 1834. He was 81 years old when the pension was awarded.

On July 7, 1838 the U.S. Congress passed an additional act which allowed for pensions to be paid to widows of Revolutionary War veterans. David had died the year before on February 11, 1837 and his wife, Esther, applied for the widow's benefit after the act became law. Esther was 74 years old and infirm. Thomas Stanford, a Justice of the Peace, appeared before the court on her behalf. James Dickson, Clerk of the Court of Duplin County, certified the application on March 27, 1840. Esther was accordingly awarded a pension of $50 per year and payment in arrears of $152.84 on June 4, 1840.

After David's death in 1837, a petition requesting the division of his slaves was presented to the Duplin Court by David's family. Linton Sheffield, Samuel Stanford, and Thomas B. Heath were appointed commissioners to divide the negroes among the petitioners. Among the slaves was Nathan, now valued at $500, who was allotted to Michael Boyette who had married David's daughter Nancy. A slave named George, valued at $700, was allotted to David's widow Esther. Eight slaves in total were allotted among the petitioners.

In 1838, James Dickson, the Clerk of the Court of Duplin County, was appointed guardian of the children of David's daughter Polly and Polly's husband Benjamin Ezzell. The nine children's names were Elizabeth, Mary Eliza, Keziah, John W., Lewis T., Catherine Ann, Mariah, David, and Benjamin Franklin. The fate of Polly and Benjamin Ezzell which caused this guardianship to occur is not known.

In July of 1841, David's widow Esther, now 77 years old and in poor health, gave up her interest in the Quinn plantation to her daughter Catherine and Catherine's husband Henry Smith in return for their support for the rest of her life. The plantation was described as being on the west side of Maxwell Swamp and adjoining the land of David Sloan and others. Included in Esther's gift to Catherine and Henry were "... One horse, three cows, two carts, household and kitchen furniture, farming utensils, carpenters and coopers tools, and one negro slave name George, about twenty three years of age." An earlier document written April 22, 1839 was adjudged to be her last will and testament. This document, sealed in the presence of James Dickson, gave her "... negro man, George..." to her daughter Catherine. Robert Dickson, "her friend and neighbor", was named executor of the will.

The date of Esther's death is not known. It must have been prior to July, 1843 since that was the date that her will, presented to the Duplin County Court by Henry and Catherine, was probated.

After Esther's death, David's land was to be divided between his six daughters. Prior to the division, the Duplin Court ordered a publication be made in the Fayetteville newspaper, The North Carolinian, stating that Jesse Newton and wife Elizabeth Quinn, Peter Rogers and wife Nellie Quinn, and Jacob Herring and wife Fanny Quinn should appear before the court the third Monday in July, 1845. They were to answer to the petition by Michael Boyette and his wife Nancy Quinn, Catherine Quinn Smith, and James Dickson, gaurdian of Polly Quinn's children, for the division of David Quinn's land. It was the judgement of the court that Elizabeth, Nellie, and Fanny, along with their respective husbands, were not at that time inhabitants of North Carolina.

On August 15, 1845 the land division was made. David Sloan, Thomas Heath, Dickson Wilson, Everett Barden, and Lewis Herring had been appointed commissioners by the court and charged with dividing and appropriating the real estate at the July term of the court. The commissioners reported the results of their work to the court in August. The land was surveyed and divided into six parcels, each valued at $50.00. The parcels were distributed by the drawing of lots. Lot No. 1 was drawn by Nancy and her husband Michael Boyette and contained 134 acres. Lot No. 2 was drawn by Catherine Quinn Smith, contained 74 acres, and included the manor plantation. Lot No. 3 was drawn by the heirs of Polly and her husband Benjamin Ezzell and contained 86 acres. Lot No. 4 was drawn by Fanny and her husband Jacob

Herring and contained 85 acres. Lot No. 5 was drawn by Nellie and her husband Peter Rogers and contained 50 acres. And lot No. 6 was drawn by Elizabeth and her husband Jesse Newton and contained 49 acres. A total of 478 acres were thus divided.

These 478 acres, along with the 322 acres previously given to his son James, were David Quinn's legacy.

THE FIRST GENERATION

JAMES W. QUINN (1797-186_)

David Quinn's son, James W. Quinn, was born March 17, 1797 in Duplin County. He was the only male child of David and Esther's eight children. James was the fifth born and was my great, great, great, grandfather.

James Quinn received from his father a gift of 322 acres of land in 1819 when James was 22 years old. I think he must have been an enterprising young man, interested in commerce as well as farming. In 1823, and again in 1824, he obtained licenses to "...retail spiritous liquors by small measures..". James paid eighty cents for each yearly license.

Exactly when James married is not known. It must have been prior to April 29, 1823, since on that date Jesse Taylor of Lenoir County gave to his daughter Nancy Taylor, "...now wife of James Quinn..", a gift of a four month old negro girl named Susan.

James and Nancy Taylor Quinn had 7 children; four boys and three girls. The eldest was W. David, perhaps named after James' father. The second was Jesse, followed by Ellen "Nellie" Jane, Lucille "Celia" Ann, Lewis James, John Thomas, and lastly Sarah "Sally" T.

On December 25, 1830, James bought 13 acres of land from Jacob Beverett and Jacob's wife Delilah Beverett. This property was a distribution share of the deceased Thomas Brooks' real estate. The 13 acres was located on the waters of the Grave Branch and may have been contiguous with the 322 acres James had earlier received from his father. He paid fifteen dollars for the property.

James experienced financial difficulties in the late 1830's. The Duplin County records show that on December 9, 1839, he mortgaged 200 acres of his land on the south side of Oakley Branch to Joseph Pittman and Samuel Sheffield to pay for a debt of seventy six dollars. He owed this amount to his sister Catherine and the debt was due on December 25, 1840.

On October 17, 1840, James mortgaged his horse and cart plus all of his cattle and pigs to David W. Boyette for seventy five dollars which he needed to hire a negro boy named Tony for the following year.

Early in 1841, the 322 acres that James had received from his father was mortgaged to Thomas Stanford for seventy six dollars; the same amount due to Catherine. The mortgage apparently was to pay a judgement that the Duplin County court made in March of 1841 in favor of Henry Smith, Catherine's husband, for seventy six dollars "...with interest and cost..".

James' sons attempted to keep their father's inherited acreage within the Quinn family. On November 25, 1844 Thomas Stanford, who just three years earlier had acquired the property, sold to David Quinn, Jesse Quinn, Lewis Quinn, and Thomas Quinn the 322 acres for one hundred and fifty nine dollars. An interesting condition was made part of the sale. Nancy Quinn, James' wife, and mother of David, Jesse, Lewis and Thomas, would have a "lifetime estate" of the whole tract. I can only suppose that Thomas Stanford did not want Nancy to be homeless during her lifetime.

James' sister Catherine, who was four years older than he, married Henry Smith. Catherine and Henry looked after her mother Esther in Esther's old age when she was unable to care for herself. This arrangement was formalized in July of 1841 when Esther gave all of her land and personal property to Henry and Catherine in return for their care for the rest of her life.

I have found no documents indicating that Henry and Catherine had children together. There is evidence that Henry brought a daughter to the marriage. In Henry's will he provided for his wife Catherine and his daughter, Jane (Jennet) Williams. Catherine was bequeathed the bulk of his property and Jane received fifty cents. Henry's will was written February 7, 1843 and probated in the April 1845 term of the Duplin County Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions.

Henry was killed March 27, 1845. The details of his death were reported in the Wilmington Journal of Friday, April 4, 1845.

"Murder--A most brutal murder was perpetrated in Duplin county on the 27th ult. under the following circumstances: Mr. Henry Smith, residing near Strickland's Depot, had endeavored, on the evening previous to the commission of the murder, to whip some of his negroes for bad conduct, but they resisted, and he failed in correcting them. Next morning he started for a neighbor's house, a short distance from his own, for the purpose of obtaining assistance. Two of his negroes then working in a field close by, suspecting their master's object, followed him into a swamp through which he had to pass on his way to his neighbor's, and there literally beat him to death with a bludgeon. We understand one of the miscreants stood sentinel at the edge of the swamp, whilst the other committed the horrid deed. Both of the negroes have been committed to Duplin Jail. Mr. Smith, we understand, was a respectable farmer and worthy citizen."

George, the negro man given to Catherine by her mother just four years earlier, was found guilty of murder by a jury of twelve at the Fall 1845 term of the Duplin Court. The court sentenced George, now 27 years old, to be executed by hanging. The Sheriff of Duplin County was directed to carry out the sentence on the twenty-fourth of October, 1845 between 12 noon and 2:00 pm.

Catherine apparently faced financial ruin after her husband died and George had been executed.

THE FIRST GENERATION

In 1846 Catherine sold the 74 acres of land, including her late father's residence, which her father had willed to her and which she had taken possession of pursuant to the division of land by the Duplin Court in 1845. She sold the land to James B. Monk on January 29, 1846 in return for him paying and discharging several of her debts. These debts were a "...bill of debts wherein the State is plaintiff and George, late the property of Henry Smith, was defendant which is to be issued by the Clerk of the Superior Court of Law for the county aforesaid (Duplin), one debt of about fifty dollars in favor of James Dickson, one debt of about forty dollars in favor of David Reid, and one debt of about forty dollars in favor of William H. Washington." In addition to the 74 acres of land, Catherine included her household and kitchen furniture and a seven year old negro girl named Eliza in the sale.

This same 74 acres was sold by James Dickson to Lewis Ezzell, son of Catherine's sister Polly, two years later on January 10, 1848. How James Dickson came to own the property is not known. The indenture stated that the appurtenances belonging to the land would go with the property "...except the old mansion house timbers and brick which the said James Dickson has the right of removing...". I believe that James Dickson did in fact remove the old mansion house timbers and brick, and these timbers and brick are part of the old Dickson house which stands today near Magnolia, NC.

Shortly before Catherine sold her 74 acres, she, along with her late husband's daughter Jane and Jane's husband, Meritt Williams, had sold to John W. Monk 120 acres of land on the south side of Stewarts Creek in Duplin County for three hundred four and 37½/100 dollars. The sale was made on January 17, 1846. Jane Williams and her husband lived in Montgomery County, North Carolina, at the time and had 6 children.

The last mention of Catherine was in the 1850 Federal Census where she is listed as suffering from palsy and in the care of the Duplin County Wardens of the Poor, the public welfare agents of the time.

James' sister, Nellie, married Peter Rogers on the 10th of March, 1825 when she was twenty years old. Peter is believed to be the son of Peleg Rogers of Duplin County. Nellie and Peter were living in Barbour County, Alabama in 1845 when the division of Nellie's father's land was made. The 1833 Federal Census of Barbour County shows that they had eight children; three boys and five girls.

In 1848, Peter Rogers sold the 50 acres of land which was Nellie's father's bequest to her. Apparently Nellie was dead at that time since neither her signature or seal is on the indenture. The sale was dated January 1, 1848 and the property was sold to Nellie's nephew Lewis Ezzell for fifty dollars. The previous year, on February 13, 1847, Peter and Nellie had sold an eighth of a section of land in Barbour County in the state of Alabama. Nellie had applied her seal to that deed and was alive then. Apparently she died sometime between the dates of these two deeds and would have been 42 or 43 years old at the time of her death.

On January 18, 1848, Lewis Ezzell was appointed guardian of his younger brothers and sisters, the minor heirs of his father Benjamin Ezzell (deceased). Benjamin Ezzell had married James' sister Polly and was the son of Michael (Mikel) and Sarah Ezzell. Ten years prior, in 1838, the Clerk of the Court of Duplin County, James Dickson, had been appointed guardian of all of Benjamin and Polly's nine children, including Lewis.

On February 18, 1848, James' sister, Nancy, and her husband, Michael Boyette, sold the 134 acres of land that Nancy had received from her father three years earlier to the same Lewis Ezzell. The property was on the west side of Maxwell Swamp and joined Oskorn Carr's land to the east and David Sloan's land to the south. Lewis paid Nancy and Michael fifty dollars for the property.

On the same date, Nancy and Michael sold fifteen acres of their land to James' son, David. The fifteen acres was on Grave Branch and adjoined James Quinn's land and David Sloan's land. David paid fifty dollars for the fifteen acres.

James' sister, Fanny, married Jacob Herring in 1825 and was living out of state when her father's division of land was made in 1845. At this time I have no knowledge of where they lived. The property that her father gave to her as part of the division was bought many years later, in 1889, by Thomas James Ezzell. Thomas James Ezzell was the son of Lewis Ezzell and Nellie Jane. "Nellie" Jane was James Quinn's daughter.

James' sister, Elizabeth, married Jesse Newton the 4th of April, 1827. Jesse and Elizabeth were living out of state in 1845. I have been unable to find where. The 49 acres she inherited from her father is now owned by Mary Catherine Bass of Magnolia.

The last documented transaction found of James Quinn's was the sale of 17½ acres bounded by Meadow Branch and David Sloan's land to his son, my great, great, grandfather David, for fifteen dollars on January 21, 1850. James was 52 years old at the time. James and his wife, Nancy, died sometime between 1860 and 1870. The 1860 Federal Census lists their names but the one of 1870 does not.

THE SECOND GENERATION

James Quinn's oldest son, W. David Quinn, was born on Monday, May 24, 1824 in Duplin County, North Carolina. He was the first of James and Nancy's seven children. David was my great, great, grandfather.

When David was just twenty years old, he and his three younger brothers, Jesse, Lewis, and Thomas, bought back the 322 acres that their father had mortgaged to Thomas Stanford three years earlier to pay off a judgement in favor of their uncle, Henry Smith.

This was to be the first of many land transactions of David's.

On June 7, 1845, David bought a little over seven acres of property from his cousin Elizabeth Jane West. Elizabeth was the eldest child of David's aunt Polly and her husband, Benjamin Ezzell. Elizabeth and her husband, Daniel West, Jr., sold the land to David for four dollars and fifty cents. The land was Elizabeth's portion of her grandfather David Quinn's bequest to her mother Polly.

When he was twenty one years old, David married Sarah Ann Chesnutt. Sarah was the daughter of Kilbee Chesnutt and Nancy A. Robinson of Sampson County, North Carolina. They were married on the 17th of November, 1845.

David and Sarah had nine children. The birthdates of the children are recorded in the Quinn family Bible. Mary Belinda was born September 29, 1846. Nancy Lund was born October 29, 1847. Jesse James was born March 17, 1850. Sarah Eliza was born April 8, 1851. William David was born June 23, 1852. John Robert was born February 20, 1854. Julius "Jule" Chesnutt was born May 15, 1855. Lewis Henry "Luke" was born August 7, 1857. And lastly, Dincy Ann "Dicie Annie" was born July 13, 1860. All of David and Sarah's children were born in Duplin County.

In April of 1847, David sold the seven plus acres he had bought two years earlier from his cousin Elizabeth Jane West to her brother, and his cousin, Lewis Ezzell. Lewis paid David five dollars and ten cents for the property. David realized sixty cents profit on the transaction.

In 1848 David bought fifteen acres of land from his aunt Nancy and her husband Michael Boyette. The land was on Grave Branch and adjoined his father's land and David Sloan's land. David paid fifty dollars for the fifteen acres.

On the 21st of January, 1850, David bought six and three quarter acres of land from his cousin Lewis Ezzell. The land shared the boundaries of his and his father's property and was on Meadow Branch. David paid Lewis thirteen dollars and fifty cents for the acreage.

On the same day, January 21, 1850, David's father sold him seventeen and a quarter acres on the Meadow Branch which adjoined David's property and David Sloan's property. David paid his father fifteen dollars for the land.

On the 5th of August, 1850, David bought ninety eight acres adjoining his property and Abner Robinson's property on the west side of Maxwell Swamp. David bought the property from William R. Cook and paid five hundred dollars for it.

As all farmer's do, David borrowed money to finance his farming operation. On February 13, 1850, and again on February 13, 1852, he had borrowed money from C. W. Graham. On the 22nd of October, 1853 the amount due, with interest, was one hundred eleven dollars and eighty cents. On that day, David indentured fifty acres of land, including the fifteen acres he had bought from his aunt Nancy Boyette, to C. W. Graham as bond against the debt. The indenture required David to repay the debt by May 1st, 1854, or lose the property.

On April 1st, 1854, David paid the Clerk of Court, William D. Pearsall, the three hundred and sixty dollars that he had four years previously bid on property that had been auctioned off at the court house in Kenansville on the 7th of December, 1850. The property contained one hundred and two acres adjoining the lands of David Sloan and belonged to the heirs of Uriah Scheffield.

Three weeks later, on April 22, David sold the one hundred and two acres to Abner Robinson for eight hundred dollars. It is supposed that he used part of the four hundred and forty dollar profit on this transaction to repay the loan from C. W. Graham due May 1st.

Earlier, on April 2nd, 1854, David bought fifteen acres south of Maxwell Swamp and on the south west side of the road adjoining his land, David Sloan's land, and Lewis Ezzell's land from his cousin Lewis Ezzell for sixty dollars.

On the 3rd of January, 1857, David sold his one quarter share of the the 322 acres which he and his brothers had earlier bought from Thomas Stanford. He sold his one quarter share to Abner Robinson for two hundred and fifty dollars. His mother and father were living on the 322 acres at the time and his mother's life estate in the property was maintained in this indenture.

On the 19th of March, 1860, David sold to his brother, Lewis James, fifty six and one half acres. The land was adjacent to Lewis' property, on the west side of Maxwell Swamp, and was lying on both sides of the main road. Lewis paid two hundred and fifty dollars to his brother for the land. (Many years later, in January of 1914, Lewis' widow, Abigail Q. Merritt, gave this property to their daughter, Nancy James "Jimmie" Quinn, and her husband, John W. Gaylor. The property is located on what is now the Brooks-Quinn road, east of Magnolia, where Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pippin once lived. Part of it is now owned by Melvin and Harry Pope.)

THE SECOND GENERATION

The following year, on May 20, 1861, North Carolina seceded from the Union. For the Quinn family the Civil War had begun.

Three months after the war started, David's younger brother, Jesse Quinn, joined the Confederate forces. On August 1, 1861, he enlisted in Company "I" of the 18th Regiment, North Carolina Infantry in New Hanover County. His military records show he was 32 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, single, and by occupation a farmer.

The next June found Jesse fighting General McClellan's Union troops at Frayser's Farm near Glendale, Virginia. General McClellan, in his Peninsular Campaign, had planned on capturing Richmond with his 105,000 men engaging the South's 60,000 Confederates. General McClellan was repulsed and retreating to Washington when General Lee attacked him at Glendale on June 30, 1862. During the Federal's rear guard action Jesse was severely wounded and sent home.

Jesse Quinn stayed at home until January-February of the following year, 1863, when he rejoined his regiment.

That summer, General Lee and his entire Army of Northern Virginia, 76,000 men strong, including Jesse, attacked the Union forces at Gettysburg. After that bloody three day battle of July 1-3, where the South lost over 20,000 killed, wounded, or missing men, Lee retreated to Virginia. During that march, David's brother Jesse was captured at Falling Waters, Maryland as he and his regiment, along with part of the 28th Regiment, were acting as rear guard for Lee's crossing of the Potomac river. He was captured on July 14, 1863.

Jesse was confined at Old Capitol Prison, Washington, D.C. until he was transferred to Point Lookout, Maryland on August 8, 1863. He was confined at Point Lookout for a year. He was then transferred to the recently opened Federal prison camp at Elmira, New York on August 16, 1864.

At Elmira he contracted "Variola" (smallpox) and died there on April 17, 1865. Jesse Quinn is buried in Grave No. 1350 at the Woodlawn National Cemetery in Elmira, beside 2,962 of his fellow Confederate prisoners.

David's brother-in-law, James W. Hanchey, who had married David's sister, Celia Ann Quinn, was the next to serve. He enlisted in Company "B" of the 3rd Regiment of North Carolina Infantry on January 21, 1862.

Two years after James Hanchey's enlistment, and shortly after the beginning of Union General Grant's Overland Campaign to take the Confederate capital at Richmond, James was captured by Union troops. He was fighting with Lee's army at Spotsylvania to defend against Grant's attacks at Richmond. James was captured on May 12, 1864.

THE SECOND GENERATION

Initially, James' captors confined him at Point Lookout, Maryland. In August they transferred him to the Federal prison at Elmira. He died in prison of "Variola" (smallpox) on February 27, 1865, one month before his brother-in-law, David's brother Jesse, was to die of the same disease at the same prison. James Hanchey was buried in Grave No. 2142, 30 yards from where Jesse would soon be interred.

Ten months after the start of the war, another of David's brothers, Lewis James Quinn, enlisted as a Private in Company "A" of the 43rd North Carolina Infantry Regiment. This company had previously been known as the "Duplin Rifles" and had served in Virginia in 1861. Lewis enlisted on March 8, 1862. His military records show that he was 24 years old and was 5 feet 6 inches tall.

In the spring of 1864, the 43rd Regiment under General Hoke attacked the Federal stronghold at Plymouth, North Carolina. Plymouth was located on the Albemarle Sound, and the Union was using it as a supply depot. The city was defended by General Wessels with some 2800 men. During this campaign, on April 18, 1864, Lewis was wounded. Two days later, on April 20, General Wessels surrendered the city.

Lewis' war records show that he was sent to Raleigh and admitted to Pettigrew General Hospital No. 13, on June 18, for treatment of an illness listed as "Vulnus Sclopet". On August 3rd he returned to duty.

Lewis returned in time to be with the 43rd Regiment as it joined General Jubal A. Early's defense of the Shenandoah Valley against yet another Union invasion. The Union Army General Sheridan, under General Grant's order, was to attack, burn the fields, and clear the valley of Southern forces. General Early had been ordered by General Lee to deny the Federals.

Sheridan began the campaign at Harper's Ferry on August 6, 1864. He commanded 45,000 troops in the assault. Early, with 20,000 Confederates, counterattacked two weeks later at Charlestown, West Virginia. Lewis James Quinn, David's brother, was killed during that counterattack on August 21, 1864.

David's cousin, Lewis Thomas Ezzell, son of David's aunt Polly, enlisted in the Confederate Army a little over a year after the war began. On June 25, 1862, at Camp French, near Wilmington, North Carolina, Lewis enlisted as a private in Company "B" of the 51st Regiment.

A year later, at Fort Wagner, Charleston, South Carolina, Lewis was wounded while fighting under Confederate General Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard defending the city of Charleston. The date of his wound has been recorded as July 18, 1863.

Federal Troops under General Quincy Adams Gillmore had been assaulting Charleston

since June, 1863 when Gillmore had taken command of the Federal force. General Gillmore planned to capture Fort Wagner and use that site to shell Fort Sumter, which was Charleston's primary defense.

Fort Wagner was defended by 1,300 men and included the 51st and 31st North Carolina regiments. On July 18, 1863 the Federal forces attacked the fort with 13,000 men. The attack was repulsed at a cost of 1,515 Federals killed, wounded or missing. The Confederates suffered 174 casualties including David's cousin, Lewis Ezzell.

Lewis was evacuated to the hospital in Charleston. He died of his wounds there on August 19, 1863. He is buried in the Magnolia Cemetery in Charleston, South Carolina.

Three weeks after his cousin Lewis enlisted, David, on July 16, 1862, joined the North Carolina State Troops. He enlisted as a private in Company "G" of the 61st Infantry Regiment in Wilmington, North Carolina. His military records show that he was 37 years old and was 5 feet 9 inches tall.

David served with the 61st Regiment for the next two years.

During this time, the 61st Regiment saw duty in Charleston, South Carolina. The regiment was posted there from July 13, 1863 to December. Whether or not David was able to see his cousin Lewis Ezzell, who was with the 51st Regiment and died in the hospital there in mid August, is not known. I like to think he did.

After David's duty in Charleston, his regiment was stationed near Wilmington, North Carolina. They were sent there just before Christmas of 1863. In May, 1864 the 61st was one of the regiments hurried to Petersburg, Virginia to counter the Union General "Beast" Butler's attack there.

A letter he sent to his wife Sarah from Nottaway Bridge on his way to Petersburg, written on May 22, 1864, reveals the circumstances of David's family at that time.

"My Dear Wife,

I received a few days since your letter of the 9th and was truly glad to hear from you but sorry to learn that you were so unwell but I hope this letter will reach and find you well & all the family. I was glad to hear that your corn was getting on so well and hope that you will be able to attend to it. I understand from a letter sent to Bryant Peterson that brother Lewis is wounded - was wounded in the Plymouth fight if it is so or you have heard anything of it write me in your next. Have you heard from him since the fight at Plymouth?

You mentioned that Rogers wanted to buy our buggy. Tell him that he can't buy what I have for a little or nothing yet awhile, if he will (agree to) give you 3 barrels of corn let him buy it, if not, keep it. That is about (what it is) worth in good times.

The fight still goes on at Petersburg, the Yankees charged our works last night seven lines deep but were repulsed.

Enclosed I send you ten dollars, if you get it mention it in your next letter. We have not drawn any money yet & will not as long as this fight goes on. We hope it is soon over. I will try and come home as soon as this fight is over.

My love to you and all the children. Write soon. Direct to Petersburg. I remain your affectionate husband,

David Quinn"

David's Regiment, the 61st, was at Petersburg as part of General Hokes' Division under General Beauregard. There would eventually be 36,000 troops of General Lee's Army of Northern Virginia defending the city against General Grant's 70,000 troops of the Army of the Potomac. General Grant had fought General Lee in the spring of 1864 from the Wilderness Battle of early May above Richmond, through Spotsylvania, to Petersburg twenty miles south of Richmond in his Overland Campaign. On June 20, at Petersburg, Grant ordered the city be put under seige. Both sides entrenched deeply. The Federal's assault on the Confederate lines was to last for ten long months, and the line of battle would extend for 37 miles.

The weather that summer was reported to be hot and dry. No rain had fallen since early June.

In the heat and dust of the Confederate trenches of Petersburg, W. David Quinn, my great, great, grandfather, forty years old, was shot in the head and killed. He died on Sunday, July 17, 1864.

In the family bible David is eulogized with these words taken from Revelations XIV:

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth, Yea saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them".

David's body is probably buried in one of the graves in the cemetery behind Old Blandford Church in Petersburg. Thirty thousand confederate soldiers died at Petersburg and were buried in the cemetery during the ten month battle. Only 2,000 of them have been identified.

After David's death, Franklin Augustus Newbury became the administrator of his estate. On November 25, 1864 David's widow Sarah was allotted a portion of her and David's property by G.W. Lamb, Justice of the Peace for Duplin County, as part of the estate settlement. In addition to 7 hogs, a cow, and a few other items, F.A. Newbury was instructed to pay her sufficient funds to provide for her and her family for one year. On the same day an auction of David's personal property (tools, cattle, etc.) was held. The auction realized $1438.05 of Confederate money which was used by the administrator to pay off some of David's debts.

The Sheriff of Duplin County, John W. Hinson, pursuant to a directive from the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, convened a jury to decide Sarah Quinn's dower. The jury allocated twenty eight acres of David's land, in two parcels, as Sarah's dower. This dower was awarded the 4th of July, 1866.

The Duplin County Court at the October term of 1866, ordered F.A. Newbury to auction off the remainder of David's land holdings to pay off and discharge the debts and other liabilities of David's. The auction was held December 6, 1866. L.A. Merriman was the highest bidder and bought the estimated ninety four acres for one hundred and ten dollars.

In January, 1868, F.A. Newbury reported to the Clerk of the Duplin Court an account of his administration of David's estate. After deducting his commission, he had $52.57 in his possession. The Clerk Walter R. Bell noted that even though several debts had been satisfied there were still three debts outstanding which in sum exceeded the $52.57. The Clerk therefore informed the Duplin Court that there would be no funds available for distribution among the heirs and petitioners.

My great, great, grandmother Sarah, a widow at forty four, was left with her eight children to fend for themselves as best they could. Sarah had 7 hogs, a cow, and twenty eight acres of land. Her oldest child, Mary Belinda, was seventeen years old, Nancy Lund was sixteen, Jesse James was fourteen, Sarah Eliza was thirteen, John Robert was ten, Juluis Chesnutt was nine, and her youngest, "Dicie Annie", had just turned four. Her second son, William David, had died in April of 1860 at the age of seven. Her fifth son, my great grandfather Lewis Henry "Luke" Quinn, was six years old.

Sarah died on December 19th, 1899 at the age of seventy nine. She is buried in the Quinn Family Cemetery on the Brooks-Quinn road south east of Magnolia.

THE THIRD GENERATION

LEWIS HENRY "LUKE" QUINN (1857-1935)

W. David Quinn's youngest son, Lewis Henry "Luke" Quinn, was born August 7, 1857 in Duplin County. He was the eighth of David's nine children. Luke was my great grandfather.

When Luke was just six years old, his father David was shot and killed fighting for the Confederacy in the Civil War at Petersburg, Virginia. Luke, his brothers and sisters, and his mother lived on and worked a 28 acre farm near Magnolia after his father's death.

Several years after the war ended, Luke married Ellen Catherine "Kate" Chesnutt. Luke's maternal grandfather, Kilbee Chesnutt, was the brother of Kate's paternal grandfather, William C. Chesnutt. Luke was 30 years old and Kate was but eighteen when they married. Kate was the only surviving child of John Dixon Chesnutt and Hannah Julia Maready and was born on July 27, 1869 in Duplin County. She married Luke on Thursday, December 22, 1887.

Luke and Kate had nine children. The oldest was Lacy Bertice followed by William David, Cora Mae, Henry Hadnal, Ora Pauline, Rosa Belle, Amos Ralph, Julia Estelle, and Carrie Thelma.

Long before Luke and Kate married, Kate's grandfather William C. Chesnutt had given her 510 acres of land in Kenansville Township, Duplin County. The indenture dated December 13, 1882 stipulated that her grandfather reserved the use of the land for his purposes until his death. He also reserved one half of the 510 acres for his son John Dixon Chesnutt's use until John Dixon's death, should John Dixon outlive him. The property was located south of Kenansville at what is now the intersection of Highway 11 and the J.B. Stroud road.

Kate's father, John Dixon, left his wife Hannah and daughter Kate in the spring of 1883, never to return. He died May 18, 1895 in Charleston, South Carolina. Kate's grandfather, William C. Chesnutt, lived to be 84 years old and died in 1894. At her grandfather's death the 510 acres became Kate's. She and Luke lived there and farmed it for the rest of their lives.

In 1893, after their third child was born, Luke built a large frame house for his growing family on the property near the Chesnutt-Quinn Cemetery. The house was a two story central hall design, one room deep, with brick fireplace chimneys at both sides. The roof was gabled and covered with tin. A two story porch was located at the front of the house, and an ell was located at the back leading to the kitchen. Luke and Kate's oldest son's name, "Lacy Quinn", was written in leftward slanting letters in chalk on an unfinished wall of the righthand upstairs room.

THE THIRD GENERATION

An early photograph I have of Luke shows a solemn young man standing with his left hand on the back of a chair. He is slim with dark straight hair neatly parted on the right and a large, downward turning mustache. His five buttoned suit coat is buttoned only at the top. The bottom button of his vest is unbuttoned. The overall impression is one of a young man dressed in the fashion of his time posing stiffly for the photographer.

A photograph of Kate taken about the same time, I believe, shows a solemn young woman seated in an ornate armchair with hands unclasped in her lap. She is slim and wears a dark dress, long sleeved with a light colored lace collar at the throat. Her hair is straight, dark, and parted in the middle. Upon her head she is wearing a light colored close fitting bonnet tied beneath her chin. Like her husband, she is dressed in fashion and posing for the photographer.

Another photograph, taken about 1901, shows Luke and Kate more relaxed outside of their house. He is coatless, without a tie, and wears a broad brimmed hat. He still has his mustache. She is wearing a long dark skirt and light blouse covered by an apron and is hatless. Her hair is straight, dark, parted in the middle, and pulled back in what is probably a bun at the back of her head. Both of them are seated in chairs in the yard. They are surrounded by 7 of their eventual 9 children. Amos is just a baby in his mother's lap. Casually posed, the photograph is one of a healthy, happy family.

As Luke lived and farmed near where he was born, so did his brothers and sisters.

His oldest sister Mary Belinda married Robert C. Bryant when she was 26 years old on February 15, 1872. I don't know when Mary Belinda died but my mother recalls that her grandfather Luke said that she died during childbirth. She also remembers being told that Mary Belinda's husband buried her in the woods behind the house they were living in at the time. Sometime later, Mary Belinda's husband Robert Bryant left Duplin County after which my great grandfather Luke reburied his sister. Exactly where he buried her is unknown, but I believe her grave is in the Quinn Family Cemetery on the Brooks-Quinn road.

Luke's second oldest sister Nancy Lund married Lorenzo Chalmers Ritter on December 17, 1879. She was 32 at the time. She and her husband farmed in Duplin County and had four children. Nancy Lund lived to be 72 years old and died on October 11, 1920.

Jesse James Quinn, Luke's oldest brother, also farmed in Duplin County. He married Elvira Rich on January 17, 1892 when he was 42 years old. He and Elvira had eight children and his descendants still live near where he farmed in Duplin. Jesse died in Wilmington on August 15, 1914.

Sarah Eliza Quinn, Luke's third older sister, married William Demat Bradshaw on September 5, 1875. She was 24 years old at the time. Sarah and William farmed in Duplin County and had six children. In 1899 Sarah bought seven acres of property from Hiram M. Swinson and his wife Allace for $35.00. The property is located on the Tracey Brown road at the Spring branch. The Duplin County Tax Office still had the property listed in her name as of June 12, 1996. The story that I heard was that Sarah was run over and killed by a train while she was stepping down from a passenger car. She is buried in the woods on the seven acres of land she bought on the Tracey Brown road.

Luke's brother John Robert Quinn was a farmer as Luke was. He died at age 59 on May 9, 1913 and is buried in the Quinn Family Cemetery. John married Dollie E. Mitchell on January 2, 1881. Dollie was the sister of John and Luke's brother Juluis' wife Sarah Mitchell who had married Juluis just a two years earlier. John and Dollie lived in a small three room house on four and three quarters acres on the road known today as the Sheffield Road, just south of Magnolia. Their house sat just behind where Albert and Wilma West's residence is located today. John and Dollie had no children.

Juluis Chesnutt Quinn, Luke's closest brother in age, was 24 when he married Sarah Mitchell on January 2, 1879. He and Sarah had 6 children. Juluis lived across from the homeplace on Quinn's path, now known as Pearsall Road, just south east of Magnolia. Juluis's daughter Mary Myrtle, who married Ike Lanier, lived on the homeplace of her grandparents David and Sarah Quinn. The land was later given to her son Admah Lanier, Sr. Today the property is owned by Raleigh and Francis A. Ezzell Knowles. Like Luke, Juluis farmed until his death at age 61 on October 9, 1916. He is also buried in the Quinn Family Cemetery.

Luke's baby sister, Dincy Ann "Dicey Annie" Quinn, was three years younger than he. When she was just 20 she married George Washington Evans. That was on February 27, 1881 just a few weeks after her brother John Robert had married Dollie Mitchell. Dicey Annie and George had 3 children. She died at age 62 on September 26, 1923. Dicey Annie was originally buried in the Quinn Family Cemetery but has since been moved to the Magnolia Cemetery.

In the winter of 1914, when Luke was in his late fifties, Luke and Kate began to divide their farm between their nine children. On December 19, 1914, three parcels were deeded. Lacy, their oldest child, who had married Pearl Duff the previous year in May, was given 57 acres. William, their second oldest, who had married Ida Smith the previous December, was given 59 3/4 acres. And Cora, their third born, who had married Adolphus Brown two years previous, was given 58 acres.

On April 9, 1915, Luke and Kate completed the land division by dividing the remaining farm acreage between their six single children. Ora recieved 57 acres, Carrie Thelma recieved 58, Julia recieved 57, Rosa recieved 57, Henry Hadnal recieved 57, and Amos recieved the last 50. Luke and Kate included a provision in the deeds to Julia and Thelma that they would retain rights to those two parcels, which contained the home place, for the rest of their lives.

THE THIRD GENERATION

Luke died peacefully, at home, of a heart condition identified as "chronic Myocarditis", an inflammation of the heart muscle. He died on August 15, 1935, at 10:00 am. Luke was 78 years old. He is buried in the Chesnutt-Quinn Cemetery on the J.B. Stroud road. His son, my grandfather, Lacy B. Quinn, is identified as the informant on the death certificate.

Kate, Luke's widow, lived to be 70 years old. She died on Sunday, May 5, 1940, at 12:00 noon. She had just finished cooking dinner and was sitting in her favorite rocker when she passed away. The death certificate states that she died "instantly of heart failure". She too is buried in the Chesnutt-Quinn Cemetery. Kate's will, written the previous May, left all of her personal property to her daughter, Carrie Thelma, and her granddaughter, Rachel Catherine, "share and share alike".

THE FOURTH GENERATION

LACY BERTICE QUINN (1888-1970)

Luke Quinn's oldest son, Lacy Bertice Quinn, was born December 26, 1888 in Duplin County. He was the first of Luke and Kate's nine children. Lacy was my grandfather.

When he was 24 years old, Lacy married Pearl Lee Duff. Pearl, the daughter of John Nick Bradshaw and Leona Duff, was just fourteen. Lacy and Pearl married in the home of F.L. Potter, JP, Hallsville, NC, on May 25, 1913. The marriage was witnessed by A.D. Duncan, J.W. Kennedy, and J.W. Blaylock.

Lacy and Pearl spent their honeymoon at Wrightsville Beach, NC. I have a copy of a photograph of them taken while they were on their honeymoon. The photo shows him in a three button suit, white shirt, and tie. His hair is dark, freshly cut, and parted on the left side. Pearl is dressed in a dark skirt and light colored blouse. The blouse is held at the collar by a wide neckerchief tied in the style of a man's necktie. She is wearing a broad brimmed straw hat, much decorated. Both of them are solemnly looking into the camera lens.

The following year, Pearl presented Lacy with the first of his eventual five children, Katie Lee. Within the next nine years she would present him with Dorothy Mae, Lillian Pauline, Henry Bertice, and Eunice Estelle.

After Katie Lee was born, Lacy's father and mother, on December 19, 1914, gave him 57 acres of their property to farm. Lacy built a home there near what is now the intersection of Highway 11 and the J.B. Stroud road, south of Kenansville. The house was identical to his brother William's house that still stands across the intersection from where Lacy built his. The house that Lacy built is no longer standing.

In 1917, on May 14th, Lacy and Pearl sold the 57 acres to his brother William D. Quinn for $1200 and purchased 50 acres on the Maxwell creek from his cousin James W. "Jim" Ritter for $1150. They lived and farmed there for a few years. They then moved to the house on Wooten Victor Parker's farm, on what is now the Johnson Parker road, and tended Wooten's farm. This house would be the homeplace of their daughter, Dorothy Mae, when she later married Wooten. After a couple of years, Lacy and his family moved to the L.N. Sanderson farm that today is owned by Melvin and Harry Pope. After their daughter, Dorothy Mae, married Wooten Parker in the spring of 1933, they move back to the Wooten farm and Wooten and Dorothy Mae moved to Warsaw, NC. Lacy farmed the land until Wooten and Dorothy Mae moved back.

In 1927, they had traded the 50 acres on Maxwell creek that they had bought from Jim Ritter to Lacy's brother, Amos R. Quinn, for the 57 acres that Amos then owned. The 57 acres was Lacy's sister Julia's original inheritance that she had exchanged with Amos for his inherited 50 acres. The exchange between Julia and Amos had stipulated that "L.H. (Luke) Quinn and Katie E. Quinn would own lifetime estate" to the property. Later, on January 7, 1939, Lacy's mother, Kate, assigned all of her interest in the property to Lacy.

On December 19, 1930, Lacy bought 54 acres of his sister Rosa B. Whaley's inherited 57 acres for $1350.

On August 7, 1943, Lacy bought 60 acres from Margaret C. Pierce for $200 and assumption and payment of unpaid taxes. This 60 acres included his sister Ora P. Smith's inherited 57 acres and 3 acres Ora had acquired from her sister Rosa Belle. Ora had sold the property to Henry Chestnutt who in turn had sold it to H.F. Pierce. Margaret was the widow of H.F. Pierce.

After staying at Wooten Parker's farm for a while, Lacy moved his family onto the 54 acres he had earlier bought from his sister, Rosa Belle, and lived there the rest of his life. The original house burnt in 1939 or 1940 and Lacy built a six room home on the property. His grandson, my cousin, Errol Quinn lives there today with his wife Telza and their two children. Errol has remodeled and expanded the house which is just a few hundred yards, across the field, from where his grandfather, Lacy, was born.

When Lacy and Pearl had been married 50 years, their children gave them a Golden Wedding party. A two column article in the local paper described the event as one of the loveliest parties of the season. "The entire house was decorated with greenery, burning tapers, and mixed spring flowers, pink snapdragon, pink carnations, white pom-poms and babies breath. Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Stroud greeted guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line...A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake decorated in gold and white was served from one end of a table covered with pink and gold net overlaid with lace. Golden fruit punch was served from the other end of the table."

A photograph taken at the party shows Lacy and Pearl behind the cake surrounded by their four, now grown, children. Lacy is wearing a three button suit, white shirt, and dark bowtie. His hair is now white. Pearl is wearing a black dress and a corsage of white roses with gold trimming. Her hair is still dark with just a touch of gray. Both are now wearing glasses.

Lacy's oldest brother, William David "Buddy" Quinn, married Ida Elizabeth "Tiny" Smith on December 27, 1913, when he was 23 years old. William and Tiny built a home on the 59 3/4 acres that his parents gave him in the winter of 1914. This home is now owned by Johnson Chestnutt and is located on the J.B. Stroud road.

William was drafted into the military and his wife, Tiny, farmed the land until his return. William and Tiny had eight children.

On May 14, 1917 Lacy sold the 57 acres his father had given him in 1914 to William. William, on the same day, sold the land to Nancy Smith for $1250. On August 26,

THE FOURTH GENERATION

1918, William purchased from a second cousin, James S. Herring and wife Kate, 10 acres. On November 2, 1931 William's wife, Tiny, bought his brother Hadnal's 57 acres that Hadnal had received from his parents. At that time William and Tiny owned a total of 183 3/4 acres.

On February 24, 1940, William, Tiny, and his mother agreeing sold the 10 acres he had bought from James Herring, plus the 59 3/4 given to William by his parents in 1914, to A.R. Chestnutt. William moved his family to the Fog Johnson place and continued to farm there and do carpentry work until the late forties. At that time he moved to Kenansville, devoting his time to carpentry until his retirement. William died in 1962 at the age of 72 years.

Lacy's oldest sister, Cora Mae "Sister" Quinn, married Adolphus Timothy Brown in 1912 when she was 20 years old. Adolphus was a farmer and died in 1918, after he and Cora Mae had been married just 6 years. He left Cora Mae with two small children; Ralph Thomas born in 1913 and Hubert Timothy born in 1916.

A few years later, in June of 1921, Cora Mae married Verdell Teachey. Verdell was also a farmer and resided in the township of Teachy. Cora Mae and Verdell lived in Teachey until their deaths and had one son together; Henry Delmos Teachey, in 1928.

After her brother Amos and his wife Blanche died of Pneumonia in 1934, Cora Mae and Verdell raised Amos and Blanche's daughter Ora Leona "Ora Lee".

Lacy's second brother, Henry Hadnal Quinn, married Minnie Dunn in 1932 when he was 38 years old.

Hadnal's parents had given him 57 acres of their property in 1915. Hadnal sold this property in 1931 to his brother William's wife, Elizabeth, on the 2nd of November. Years earlier, in 1927, Hadnal had purchased 118 acres from his second cousin, James S. Herring and his wife Katherine Quinn Herring. After Hadnal and Minnie were married they lived and farmed on this 118 acres until their deaths.

Hadnal and Minnie had seven children together, including three, two daughters and a son, who died at birth. One of the seven children, a son, died as a baby at 2 months and 11 days old.

Lacy's next oldest sister, Ora Pauline "Oker" Quinn, married Lawton Leonard Smith when she was just 22 years old. Lawton farmed and worked as a Prison Steward. Oker and Lawton had no children of their own, but raised two of Oker's brother Amos' children; Rosa and Amos after Amos and his wife passed away in 1934.

In 1922, Lawton and Oker sold Oker's 57 acres given to her by her parents, plus 3 acres they had bought from her sister Rosa Belle to Henry Chestnutt for $1500. That same day, January 19, they purchased from Merriman Phillips and Hettie Phillips the 57 acres that Oker's brother, my grandfather, Lacy, had received from his parents and later sold to his brother, William. Thirty years later, on November 7, 1952, Lawton and Oker would sell the same 57 acres to Inez Brown Chestnutt.

After Oker's parents, Luke and Kate Quinn, died, Lawton and Oker moved back to the home place to care for her sister Thelma and niece Rachel. This was in 1940. After the children grew up and moved away, Lawton suffered a stroke and was restricted to a wheelchair. Lawton died in 1966.

Oker and her sister, Thelma "Baby" Quinn, lived at the home place until 1980 when Oker could no longer care for herself and her sister and had to be placed in a nursing home. Oker died there in 1993, just 13 days short of her 97th birthday.

Lacy's next sister, Rosa Belle Quinn, married Ernest Fletcher Whaley on February 3, 1919. Rosa Belle was 20 years old. Fletcher was a farmer, and he and Rosa built a home on the 57 acres her parents had given her in 1915. Fifteen years later, in December of 1930, they sold 54 acres of their property to Rosa Belle's brother, Lacy. Three acres had previously been sold to Oker.

Rosa and Fletcher had seven children. When Rosa died at the young age of 35 in May of 1934, she left a one month, 3 day, old baby. Fletcher cared for the children and in 1938 married Fannie Dunn, who was the sister of Hadnal's wife, Minnie. Fletcher continued to farm until his death in 1938 when he was struck by an automobile and killed.

Lacy's next brother, Amos Ralph Quinn, married Rosa Blanche Whaley on the 20th of March, 1924, when he was 23 years old. Amos and Blanche had 6 children; Rachel Catherine, Rosa Mae, Amos Edward, Carrie Estelle, Hannah Hilda Gray, and Ora Leona "Ora Lee". Carrie Estelle and Hannah Hilda Gray died as young infants.

In 1927, Amos traded the 57 acres his parents had given him to his brother Lacy for Lacy's 50 acre tract on Maxwell creek. In 1931, on October 1st, Amos sold the 50 acres to J.C. Carr and Rufus E. Carr for $200. Amos moved his family to the Barden place and farmed there until his death.

Tragically, on March 20, 1934, Amos and Blanche both died of Labored Pneumonia, just 5 hours apart. Blanche died first at 6:00 a.m. and Amos followed at 11:00 a.m. Their oldest child, Rachel, 8 years old, went to live with her grandparents, Luke and Kate. The two next oldest, Rosa, 7 years old, and Amos, 5 years old, were taken in by Amos' sister Oker and her husband Lawton Smith. The youngest child, Ora Lee, 6 months old, was accepted into Amos' sister Cora Mae and her husband Verdell Teachey's home.

My grandfather Lacy's next sister, Julia Estelle Quinn, had Poliomyelitis (Infantile Paralysis). Julia and her sister, Carrie Thelma, both had polio when they were small children and their father, Luke, bought braces for their legs. Julia died in 1929 at just 23 years of age.

Lacy's youngest sister, Carrie Thelma "Baby" Quinn, was born in 1907. She had, as her sister Julia, Infantile Paralysis as a child and was called "Baby" because she was the last born to Luke and Kate. Her sister, Oker, and Oker's husband, Lawton Smith cared for Thelma after Luke and Kate passed away.

In 1980, when Oker was 84 and could no longer care for herself and Thelma, Thelma was taken to the home of her nephew, William Henry Quinn, and his wife Lizzie where she was cared for until her death later that year.

Thelma received a baby doll as a present every Christmas until her death November 20, 1980, at the age of 73 years. Thelma died of "Aspiration Esophagus - Gastric Contents".

I was lucky enough to know both of my grandparents, Lacy Bertice Quinn and Pearl Lee Duff. I remember riding with my grandfather Lacy through the country in his pickup truck. He would be holding the steering wheel with both hands, one on each side of the wheel, and would be whistling quietly out of the side of his mouth. When my cousins, Elva and Sandra, and I would be playing at my grandparent's house we would come inside and ask my grandmother Pearl if she would make some teacakes for us. She would always say, "I just don't have time to mess with you children." But when we returned there would be a fresh batch on the table.

My grandmother Pearl died in 1967, on the 4th of April. She is buried in the Devotional Gardens Cemetery, Warsaw, NC. My grandfather Lacy survived her and lived to be 81 years old. He died on the 27th of June, 1970. He too is buried in the Devotional Gardens Cemetery.

When Lacy died, his approximately 380 acres of property, both in Duplin and Sampson counties, was divided equally amongst his four children.

THE FIFTH GENERATION

LILLIAN PAULINE QUINN BROOKS (1917-2000)

Lacy Quinn's third daughter, Lillian Pauline Quinn, was born February 17, 1917, in Duplin County. She was the third of Lacy and Pearl's five children. Pauline is my mother.

When Pauline was 19 years old she married a childhood friend and neighbor, Wilbert Alvin Brooks. They were married August 29, 1936. My father, Wilbert Brooks, was born in Duplin County and his parents were John Alvine Brooks and Minnie Mathis. Wilbert was 27 when he married my mother.

In the next ten years, my parents would have six children. The oldest is my sister, Eleanor Gale, who lives in Wilmington, NC. The second is my brother, Wilbert Earl, who lives in Hampstead, NC. The next three, Charles Keith, Linda Pearl, and Linwood Quinn, all live in Wilmington. I am the youngest and live in Magnolia, NC.

In the late 1940's, after I was born, my mother went to work as a cashier in a grocery store in Magnolia, working for Admah Lanier for a short time. In 1951, her brother Bertice started a grocery store, also in Magnolia, and she began working in the store for him.

In 1952 my mother bought a home just south of Magnolia where we lived for 12 years. In 1964 she quit her job with her brother and moved to St. Louis, MO. She and my father had separated at that time and would later divorce in 1967.

Arriving in St. Louis, she initially worked for a shoe manufacturing company but soon found employment with the Westinghouse Electric Co. She worked at Westinghouse until her retirement in 1978.

My mother's oldest sister, Katie Lee Quinn, died when she was only 14 years old. In the winter of 1928-1929, she contracted pneumonia and passed away January 9, 1929. Her death certificate gives cause of death as "Labored Pneumonia". Katie Lee was initially buried in the Chesnutt-Quinn Cemetery, but her parents had her remains moved to the Devotional Gardens Cemetery to be next to them when they would pass away.

My mother's second oldest sister, Dorothy Mae Quinn, married Wooten Victor Parker May 27, 1933. Dorothy Mae was 17 years old and Wooten was 44. Dorothy Mae and Wooten lived in Magnolia and farmed Wooten's land on what is now the Johnson Parker road near Magnolia.

Dorothy Mae and Wooten had two children: Evelyn Quinn Parker and Victor Thomas Parker. After Wooten died in 1950, Dorothy Mae continued on the farm and finished raising their children there. Dorothy Mae was quite a successful farmer and acquired quite a large estate prior to her death in 1987.

THE FIFTH GENERATION

My Mother's brother, Henry Bertice Quinn, was the only son of Lacy and Pearl Quinn. Bertice was drafted into the military service in the fall of 1942 when he was 21 years old. He served with the U.S. Army in Africa and Europe for the duration of World War II. He was discharged as a Sergeant in 1945 and returned home to Magnolia.

Upon returning home, Bertice picked up where he left when drafted, farming with his father. A few years later, in 1948, he married Miriam Atlee Tucker. He and Miriam had four children: Sandra Caroline, Elva Miriam, Caron Tucker, and Errol Bertice.

In 1951, in addition to farming, he went into the grocery business. Bertice rented Mr. Claude Evans' store and operated it for about ten years. He then built his own grocery and operated it as a Red & White food store until 1966, when he sold it to devote more of his time to farming. While in the grocery business, he also operated the Magnolia Hardware store for a number of years.

Bertice passed away March 9, 1994, and is buried in the Devotional Gardens cemetery in Warsaw, NC. Bertice's widow, my aunt Miriam, still lives in their home and is doing well. Their children are all grown now and out on their own.

My mother's youngest sister, Eunice Estelle Quinn, married Raymond Peek "Pete" Wood December 29, 1940, when she was 17 years old. She met Pete when he was working on Highway 117. They were paving the road at that time.

Eunice and Pete lived in and around Warsaw, NC, all of their lives. They have two children: Raymond Peek "R.P." and Donna Kay. Eunice passed away March 23, 1997, and is Entombed at Devotional Gardens, Warsaw, NC. Pete was a farmer for a number of years and also worked in sales for the Z.J. Carter Fertilizer Co.

In 1977, a year before her retirement, my mother purchased a residential lot in Carolina Beach, NC. and built a home there. When she retired the next year, in February, she moved to Carolina Beach. Two weeks after arriving at her new home, she started working with the Senior Citizen's Program. She worked with the Senior Citizens for about eight years. Today, at age 79, she is still maintaining her home at the beach, and a vegetable garden in the back yard.

Frances "Fanny" Quinn was born 08 Aug. 1800 in Duplin Co., NC. Died (date unknown). Married Jacob Herring 1825. Marriage bond 01 April 1825. Bondsman was Loftin Quinn, Witness was James Pearsall, Clerk. We have no information on Jacob.

At the time of her father's death, Fanny and Jacob were living out of the state (Source: Duplin Co. Court of Pleas Apr. 1845 & North Carolinian newspaper 14 June 1845). Notice was published in newspaper for them to appear at the next court session. I have not found any records in the court house of them appearing & claiming her inheritance. Nor have I located what state they were living in at the time.

On 06 May 1889 Sheriff James Kenan sold for nonpayment of taxes the 85 acres Fanny inherited to her great nephew Thomas James Ezzell. There was no reference as who owned the land at the time of the sale in the deed. The 85 acres is owned today (1996) in part by J.D. and Sandy Chestnutt Williams, Pippin's heirs, Mary Catherine Bass, Jim Wilson, and Franco Fredrick.

We have no information on Jesse.

Elizabeth and Jesse were living out of state at the time of her father's death, and as with Fannie we have found no reference as to where. Again we have located no documents at this writing showing when they claimed the inheritance. Her 85 acre inheritance today (June 1996) is owned by Mary Catherine Bass.

Eleanor (Elender) "Nellie" Quinn was born 05 May 1804 in Duplin Co., NC. Died (date unknown). Married Peter Rogers 10 March 1825 in Duplin Co., NC. It is believed Peter was the son of Peleg Rogers. Their marriage notice was printed in the Raleigh newspaper 15 April 1825.

Nellie and Peter were living in Barbour County, Alabama at the time of her father's division of land in 1848. On 01 Jan. 1848 Peter sold the 50 acres Nellie inherited to his & Nellie's nephew, Lewis Thomas Ezzell, son of Mary "Polly" Quinn & Benjamin Ezzell. Nellie's signature was not on the deed and it is believed she was either deceased at the time or maybe did not make the trip from Alabama (Source: Duplin Co. Deed Book k-19 page 136). This land today is owned by Mary Catherine Bass.

The 1833 Barbour Co., AL. census lists Peter Rogers & wife with 3 males under 21 years of age and 5 girls under 21 years. The Barbour Co., AL Conveyance Records (Book H page 40 & 41) have Nellie & Peter quitclaiming a tract of land to John W. Seay in 1847. Sarah Eliza Quinn was born 08 April 1851 in Duplin Co., NC. Died (date unknown). The family story is that Sarah was killed when a train ran over her. Have not located any reference to her death at this date (June 1996). It was sometime after 10 June 1913 as Sarah was a witness to her daughter, Lessie's, wedding on that date. There is not a death certificate registered in the Duplin Co. court records. Either she died in another county or before Oct. 1913, when NC started keeping birth & death records. Possibly a death certificate was never filed. Sarah is buried on the 7 acres where she and her family lived. Location is on Tracy Brown Road, next to spring branch, on the right coming from Hwy. 903 just before intersecting J.B. Stroud road, east of Magnolia, NC.

Married William Demat Bradshaw 05 Sept 1875 in Magnolia, NC by O.J. Carroll, J.P. Witnesses: W.J. Carroll, W.J. Hollingsworth, & A. Closs(?). William was born April 1852 in Sampson Co., NC. Death certificate states he was born in 1859, but all other records indicate 1852. Died 03 Dec. 1928 in Kinston, NC. Buried Kinston, NC (Cemetery not named). Son of William Bradshaw & Ann Register.

On 01 July 1899 Sarah purchased 7 acres of land from Hiram M. & wife Alice S. Swinson for thirty-five dollars ($35). This is where Sarah & William lived until her death. The house is no longer standing. Today, 97 years after Sarah purchased it, this land is still listed in the Register of Deeds and tax office in her name (Source: Deed Book 65 page 487). After Sarah's death, William and family moved to Kinston, NC.

When asking family members about Sarah and William, I was told that all of their children's names rhymed with each other. When I came across Sarah and William in the 1900 census, with all of these children with the rhyming names, I was certain that I had found the family.
